Joint statement on B.C.'s COVID-19 response, latest updates

“Today, we are announcing four 24-hour reporting periods.

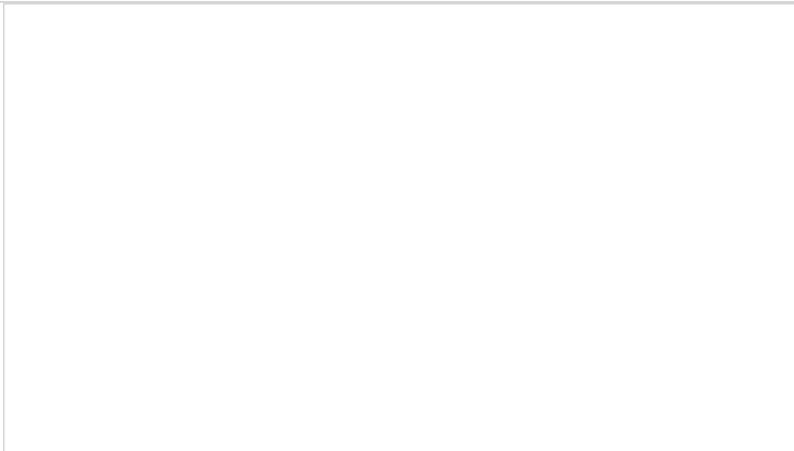

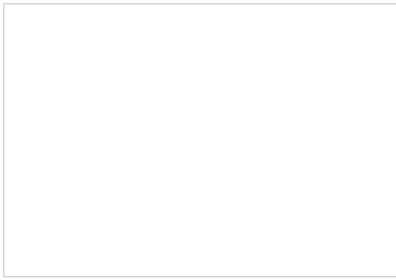

“In the first reporting period from Oct. 9 to 10, we had 170 new cases. From Oct. 10 to 11, we had 159 new cases. From Oct. 11 to 12, we had 119 cases and in the last 24 hours, we have had a further 101 new cases.

“This represents a total of 549 new cases, including five epi-linked cases, for a total of 10,734 cases in British Columbia.

“The increase in cases is in part a result of a recent testing backlog, which was cleared with extra lab processing over the weekend. While this has meant an increase in the overall number of confirmed positive cases, the active cases and percentage positive remain stable.

“Each day that you choose to do the right thing, you are helping to protect our communities and keeping important activities and places open and safe. Just as we all did this past weekend, let’s continue to find new ways to support each other and show we care – at a safe distance.”

CLBC Update

REMINDER: Join CLBC's October 15 teleconference for self advocates and families on COVID-19

Dear self advocates and families -

Please join Community Living BC (CLBC) tomorrow, Thursday, October 15 for our next opportunity to hear health and safety updates from Dr. Daniele Behn Smith, Deputy Provincial Health Officer and CLBC CEO Ross Chilton. We are pleased to also have CLBC Board Chair Michael J. Prince as teleconference moderator.

CLBC is grateful to Dr. Behn Smith for being available during the Fall for monthly teleconference calls to provide health and safety updates and respond to health related questions from individuals and families.

When: Thursday, October 15, 2020

Time: 1:05 – 2 p.m.*

How to call in:

Vancouver: 604-681-0260

Elsewhere: 1-877-353-9184

Participant code: 37568#

 Due to the large number of participants, please call in at 12:45 p.m.*

Individuals and families are asked to submit their health and safety questions in advance by noon today, Wednesday, October 14 to CLBCInfo@gov.bc.ca with the subject line: OCT 15 CLBC Call. This will allow us to answer as many questions as possible on the call.

We look forward to having you join us! Please check out our latest email newsletter with health and safety news and resources here. For all COVID-19 information from CLBC, please visit our web pages here.
